

PINE STREET INJUNCTION TODAY REFUSED

BUT PAN HANDLE PREVENTS BUCKEYE LAKE ROAD

FROM PUTTING IN A CROSSING

By Sending Two Engines to Run by the Crossing and Prevent Work From Being Done.

A special telegram to the Advocate at noon from Millersburg, Ohio, says that the Circuit Court of this district, Judges Douglass, Donahue and Voorhees today refused to grant a temporary injunction in the Pine street crossing case but made the order that the frog to be used by the Columbus, Buckeye Lake and Newark Traction company must meet the necessities of the plaintiff.

About a month ago in the Newark Court of Common Pleas the two steam roads, B. & O. and Pan Handle, filed a suit against the Buckeye Lake line, claiming that it was necessary for the interurban road to condemn and appropriate a right of way over the steam roads' tracks on Pine street. A temporary injunction was granted but upon hearing was dissolved and the matter was taken then to the Circuit Court. On Tuesday the case was before the Circuit judges, Edward Kibler representing the B. & O. and Pan Handle companies and J. R. Fitzgibbon the C. B. & N. line. As announced above the court has just refused the injunction, but has ordered that the frog used at the crossing must meet the necessities of the steam roads.

This afternoon Mr. Davis came down from Hebron with a gang of men to put in a frog at Pine street and it is expected the work will occupy only a few hours. It is probable that cars will be running to the public square tomorrow. The track between a point west of Hebron and the northeast corner of the public square in Newark is completed, with the exception of the Pine street crossing, and as soon as that is in the cars can come clear to the heart of the city. For some time cars have been running from the Old Fort to Hebron.

Work is progressing on the new line between Columbus and Hebron. This afternoon the affair took another form and the work of putting in the crossing at Pine street was prevented.

The Pan Handle railway people were evidently quickly notified of the decision of the Circuit Court, and the action the Buckeye people would probably take, as shortly after noon they had one of their large engines taken up on Pine street and set directly across the crossing where it is designed to put in the frog. A number of the employees of the Pan Handle company were also on hand to do what they could to prevent the putting in of the frog. A large number of people assembled in the vicinity to watch the proceedings. Attorney Edward Kibler of the law firm of Kibler & Kibler, attorneys for the Pan Handle railway company, went over to Columbus this afternoon to meet Judge Collins and other officials of the Pan Handle company, in connection with the Chief Engineer of the Buckeye road to arrange matters satisfactorily if possible.

This afternoon a second engine was sent to Pine street and the two engines are playing back and forth just often enough to prevent the Buckeye Lake men from doing much work. Before the engines arrived however the Buckeye Lake men tore out the planks from the steam road crossing preparatory to putting in the frog, but along came the steam engines and spoiled the whole thing.

At 3 p. m. a message was sent to the B. & O. yards for more men and shovels. The Buckeye Lake people in spite of the continual running back and forth of the two yard engines had been shoveling dirt out at the crossing and the steam railway employees have been just as busy shoveling it back again. The Buckeye Lake gang was the larger, hence the call for more men. Three policemen from the city are on the ground and a large

LYNCHING

Would Have Taken Place Had Officers Not Rushed In—Jealous Man Fatally Cuts Wife.

Chicago, Nov. 22.—On Madison street this morning before thousands who were going to work, Paul Warsaw, a bar keeper, cut and slashed his wife with a razor about her face and neck. Chillicothe, O., Nov. 22.—A remarkable accident occurred on the B. & O. S. W. last night. A freight train struck an embankment about 50 feet high, when three cars in the rear of the train broke loose and went down the embankment. A car in front of these cars was also derailed but still remained coupled to the train and was dragged along the track for 200 yards until it reached the pumping station. The car struck this building, completely demolishing it and throwing the wreck into the Scioto river. The car also went into the stream. Three employees were in the pump house at the time, but all escaped injury.

PENITENTIARY

Cost More to Operate Than it Earned the Past Year—The Figures Given.

Columbus, O., Nov. 22.—The Ohio Penitentiary cost $50,405 more to operate than was earned during the year ended October 31. The per capita cost in 1901 was 46.1 cents, as compared with 44.9 cents the year before. The increase is attributed to the high price of provisions and vegetables. The earnings this past year were $258,408.67, as compared with $248,510.53 the year before, with a larger population. The total expenditures for the year were $308,814.42, of which $155,633.71 went for current expenses, $91,435.77 to guards, and $31,724.94 to officers and Board of Managers. Three men were executed during the year—Richard Gardner, Rosslyn Ferrell and Ed Ruthven. Twenty-seven persons have escaped from the penitentiary in its history, and four of them got away in the year ending October 31, and two have escaped since. The annual appropriation for the support of the penitentiary was $361,000. The expenditures now are $123,116.27, and at the end of the appropriation year, February 15, there will be a balance of about $30,000.

The Board of Managers in their annual report filed yesterday recommend electric lighting throughout, and call attention to the opportunities for suicide and to the danger of gas explosions because of the worn-out plumbing. They recommend that a separate building be erected for the criminal insane.

QUEEN'S

CONDITION MORE SERIOUS THAN ANTICIPATED.

STORIES OF TROUBLE WITH THE PRINCE CONSORT.

COUPLE IS WHOLLY ESTRANGED.

Public Devoted to the Queen Becoming Alarmed and May Wreak Vengeance Upon Prince.

Amsterdam, Nov. 22.—It is learned that the present condition of Queen Wilhelmina is more serious than was anticipated. It is hoped that careful nursing will assist the queen to recover her health, but there is considerable anxiety felt in intimate court circles that her illness will create an endless succession of difficulties. If the queen remains childless, the crown will revert to the Duke of Luxembourg who is unpopular in Holland and distasteful to the powers.

The stories that the prince consort is inconsiderate and that his quarrel with Queen Wilhelmina, which only the intervention of the Dowager Queen Emma stopped, caused Wilhelmina's illness continues to gain currency. The Volksdagblatt alleges that the couple are now completely estranged. The public who are devoted to the queen are becoming more alarmed by the stories and should they prove true, the people are prepared to wreak their indignation upon the prince consort.

BEWITCHED

Calebresse Says He Is, and Wants the Police and a Priest to Afford Him Protection.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 22.—Peter Calebresse, living at 138 Ewing street, complained to Captain Wheeler, of the Maxwell street station, that Mary Devito, 138 West Polk street, was a witch and had thrown a spell over him and his sister, and he asked to have her arrested. Captain Wheeler said he would have to take up the law concerning witchcraft first, but Calebresse could not wait and went off and applied for assistance from Rev. Father Dunn.

Calebresse said his sister had gone to Italy to shake off her spell, but the news had come that she was no better. As for him he said his sufferings were almost past belief. The alleged witch he says, makes him eat too much and sleep too much, and even abandon his work in the middle of the day for refreshment. He is also compelled to clean house and sweep his sidewalk incessantly, when they don't need it. He says he is required to walk backward frequently, and sometimes has the sensation of dropping an immense distance through the air.

TEST WELL

Will Soon be Put Down Near Johnston—Mr. Hovis Inspects the Territory.

Johnstown, O., Nov. 22.—W. J. Hovis, of Marietta, O., arrived here this week for the purpose of locating the test well and in company with Mr. Piepoint inspected the territory leased. His first choice of location was on I. H. Peck's farm, but as the Buxton and Green farms adjoining could not be leased, he did not choose to spend $3000 to $4000 in a well where the land was not all leased, and therefore decided to put down a well near the Columbus bridge, one-half mile west of Johnstown on the east side of Raccoon Creek, on Green Tippet's land, formerly a part of the Reed estate. There is no doubt about the well and Mr. Hovis stated that work will commence soon and that a thorough test of the territory will be made.

STILL

SHERWELL DENIES THAT HE EVEN KNEW LENA.

PRISONER FINDS HIS PIPE GREAT COMFORT.

WILL NOT DISCUSS THE CASE.

A Girl Testifies That Sherwell Once Knocked Lena Renner Down and Threatened Her Life.

Evansville, Ind., Nov. 22.—Neither the coroner nor the police have found any evidence as to the identity of the second man in Sherwell's surrey on the Monday evening that Lena Renner, making the fourth party of two men and two women, went on her last ride. The police seem to be ignoring the case, pending action by the coroner. Meanwhile Sherwell sits in his cell in the city jail, coolly smoking his pipe and greeting any visitors he may have with a smile. In the course of an hour's talk with him he never but once lost his absolute control of temper and tongue, and that but an instant, when it was remarked: "Sherwell, it looks as if you were born to be hanged."

"Maybe," he answered, "but you know these things have to be proved." He still denies that he ever knew Lena Renner, except by hearsay; that he did know her has been established beyond a doubt. Annie Evans swears that Sherwell is the man who knocked Lena down in her presence last February and with an oath said he would kill her if it were not for his wife and children.

Sherwell refuses to discuss the testimony against him beyond stating that "when the thing is over" he will issue a complete statement to the public. He is a wonderful individual whether innocent or guilty.

The father of young Sievert is an old settler of this place and is reputed to be wealthy. He was married to his present wife a year ago. Carl made his home with him in town, at the same time overseeing the working of his large stock farm three miles out. When Mrs. Sievert disappeared, leaving a farewell letter, Sievert employed a detective to find her. He was surprised to find both his wife and his son living happily in Washta, Iowa. The old man has written to the son saying he is welcome to his stepmother's affections.

MOTION

To Consolidate the Cases of Judges Jones and Wickham in Contesting Election of Coynor.

Mt. Vernon, O., Nov. 22.—The announcement that Judge John David Jones of Newark had contested the election of Coynor, created great interest here. Judge Jones, when interviewed on the subject, intimated that he had entered the ring so as to be in court if anything should drop. He figures out that if the circuit court should sustain some of Judge Wickham's contentions it will put Wickham ahead of Coynor, but will leave Jones himself in the clear, with Wickham out in the cold.

Mr. H. W. Jewell, who is attorney for Jones, has filed a motion in the circuit court to consolidate the two cases, and it is said that they will be heard at the December term of the circuit court. Judge Jones does not appear to think that the ouster proceedings will amount to much, but Judge Wickham's attorneys insist that there is considerable merit in some of their claims.

PLANNED

The Attack on the Schoolmaster, Which Resulted Fatally—Crime of Four Boys.

St. Joseph, Mo., Nov. 22.—John Montgomery, aged 35, a teacher in the public school of Cawood, Mo., 20 miles from this city, was attacked by four of his small pupils yesterday afternoon while he was endeavoring to punish one of them for an infraction of the rules, and was stabbed repeatedly in the region of the heart and lungs and expired soon after. The names of his assailants are Roy and Joseph Bedford and John and Virgil Miller.

Other pupils are said to have taken a minor part in the crime, but it said to have been the quartet named who used their pocket knives and caused the death of the teacher. For several days the teacher has had trouble with the Miller boys, but they appeared to have become amenable to discipline when it developed that they had enlisted the support of the Bedford boys in a premeditated attack.

SUPPORT

TO BE GIVEN THE REVISED MUNICIPAL CODE.

BILL ORIGINALLY DRAWN BY KIBLER AND PUGH.

UNITED SUPPORT BY THE BAR.

Politicians of All the Larger Cities it is Said Will Oppose the Proposed Measure.

Columbus, O., Nov. 22.—The advocates of municipal reform won a substantial victory at the meeting of the State Chamber of Commerce through the adoption of the revised municipal code and the rejection of the Lieben plan. The municipal code was prepared by Judge Pugh of this city, and Edward Kibler of Newark, and provides for a uniform system of government for cities and towns throughout the state. It was introduced in the General Assembly two years ago, but met with violent opposition because it contained a provision for municipal ownership and a non-partisan ballot. These were eliminated in a bill drawn by the State Bar Association. The Lieben bill which was introduced at the same session, provided that every municipality should be permitted to write its own charter, being the freest of home rule.

It was attacked by the municipal code supporters, who impugned the motives of those behind it, declaring that they were serving corporate interests which wanted no disturbance of the present system. After the adjournment of the General Assembly, without the adoption of either measure, the matter was taken up by the State Chamber of Commerce and the State Bar Association. The impression gained ground that the State Board of Commerce favored the Lieben plan, but this is now denied, and the denial is corroborated by the action of the ruling council of that body. There was differences, and a committee, made up of James R. Garfield of Cleveland; Francis B. Jamon of Cincinnati, and Judge Gilbert Stewart of this city, was appointed to harmonize the measures. At a meeting held here some weeks ago, Messrs. Barfield and James voted to favor the Pugh-Kibler code, while Judge Stewart held out for the Lieben method. Yesterday the Council met to hear this report at the Board of Trade. In addition to the legislative committee there were present E. M. Thresher of Dayton; Charles B. Murray of Cincinnati; Henry Griffin of Cleveland, and A. R. Foote of this city. After a protracted session the following was adopted:

Resolved, That the council of the State Board of Commerce adopt the majority report of the Legislative Committee, indorsing the municipal code as revised by the State Bar Association, and recommends the indorsement of the code as amended by the State Board of Commerce at its annual meeting in January.

This means that the revised municipal code will have the united support of both State Bar Association and the State Board of Commerce. Senator Harding of Marion, will likely introduce the bill early in the session. It will most probably be fought by the politicians of the larger cities, as it was before.

The date for the coming state convention was fixed for January 8, 1902. A committee, consisting of E. M. Thresher of Dayton, Judge Stewart and Mr. Foote, was appointed to draft bills for uniform accounting and an amendment to the constitution providing for local option in taxation.

RESIGNATION ASKED FOR.

Rome, Nov. 22.—The Vatican has given Bishop Matz, of Denver, to understand that it desires his resignation owing to his difficulties with the Irish-American clergy of Denver. Matz is not inclined to comply.

THE WAR OF SUGAR INTERESTS.

The American sugar trust proposes a war on beet sugar, and in carrying it out has recently made a cut in granulated sugar from 5.03 cents to 3.5 cents per pound. The public would have been agreeable had the cut in prices been general, but it applies only to sugar shipped west of the Missouri river points, and is aimed at the beet sugar refiners of Utah, Colorado, California and Nebraska, where nineteen-twentieths of the beet sugar product of the United States is produced. It is the practice of these refiners to contract for their output at 10 points below the sugar trust prices, and at the discount the beet sugar makers have been able to market all their product. If they meet the trust reduction by a cut of 10 points below the trust prices they will be subjected to heavy losses and forced to abandon their refineries and cease production. The market for sugar beets would be destroyed, involving tremendous losses to farmers who have undertaken beet culture on a large scale.

The sugar trust is undoubtedly seeking to promote the use of cane sugar and discourage the beet sugar industry. It therefore seeks the importation of cane sugar duty free. It has secured it from Hawaii and Porto Rico, and expects the same as to Cuba's sugar product. This is relied on to crush out the beet sugar industry. The trust, to secure free sugar from Cuba, is believed to favor annexation and place Cuban exports of sugar on the same basis as the imports from Hawaii and Porto Rico. The trust sees the large development of the beet sugar industry in this country with some alarm. If it grows to such an extent as to supply the home market the trust's business will be impaired, if not destroyed. It wants free raw sugar from abroad, with a high tariff on its refined product, which is the sole business of the trust. It does not raise sugar, but refines it, and refined sugar is the sugar of commerce.

A great meeting has been called for December 8, at the Auditorium at Chicago, in support of the cause of the Boer republics. W. Bourke Cockran of New York, will be the orator, and a monster meeting is assured. The circulars being sent around indicate that the meeting will make itself felt, especially with reference to the death camps in South Africa, where the Boer children have been dying at such a frightful rate. The British Government is directly responsible for those camps and for the entire reconcentration system, which was the consequence of Lord Roberts' barbarous farm-burning policy. The death camps are a terrible stain upon England and upon civilization as well. The American people may justly and legitimately show to England that the policy of Weyler does not, in American opinion, suddenly become an atrocity to be lauded when accepted by England. Under the auspices of German societies a similar meeting is to be held in Cleveland.

Yellowback Friends.

Stuebenville, O., Nov. 22.—Harry Rigby and William Young, 14 and 15 respectively, were arrested at Mingo Junction for being connected with a series of daring burglaries. The boys had their plunder hid in a cave along one of the ravines in the town, and a cart load of dime novel literature was found stored there also.

CHRISTMAS PRESENTS.

Sofa Cushions Are Always Acceptable Gifts.

THEY MAY BE CHEAP OR COSTLY.

Every One Can Be Satisfied From the Endless Variety of Covers Which Are to Be Found in the Shops or Are Possible to Clever Fingers and Ingenious Brains.

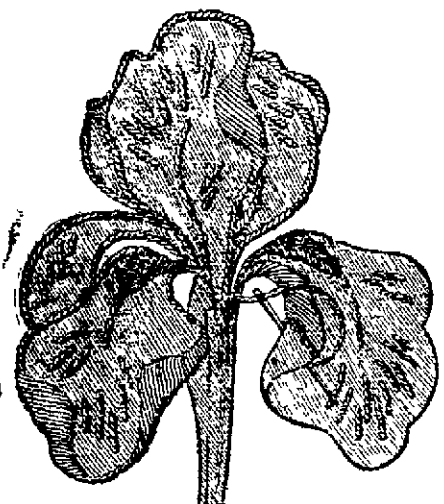

When in doubt, give a pillow. This is sage advice in selecting a holiday gift. For matron or maid, benedict or bachelor, a handsome and comfortable sofa pillow or cushion, as it is variously termed, never comes amiss. Sofa cushions are to be bought in the shops in various stages of completion and are as costly as the purse will buy or as cheap as the formalities of fashion will permit. Homemade sofa cushions are cheaper than those purchased in the stores. They possess an individuality which the factory made cushion cannot be expected to display. Stamped patterns representing horse racing, football, boating and similar scenes are prepared and only require the addition of silk or satin for the back, a bit of fancy cord for binding and some feathers or eiderdown for the interior. Such cushions are much prized by men. For the collegian cushion covers bearing the color of his university may be had. The "coon" cover depicting plantation scenes is cheerful for the room of an invalid. A charming old lady was delighted last Christmas with a crazy cushion made with pieces from the wedding gowns of her daughters and daughters-in-law and the neckties of her sons and sons-in-law. Bits of silk from her grandchildren's first sashes or cloaks were also included in the cover. This year one of the old lady's relatives is preparing a cushion made up of patches taken from gowns and ties worn on notable occasions in the family.

SQUARE AND TRIANGULAR CUSHIONS.

A novel shape for a sofa pillow is shown in the illustration. Any kind of material can be used for the triangular cover, provided the colors are suitable. A lattice-work is put across the pointed corners in gilt thread. The daisy pattern is one of the easiest as well as most effective for the embroidery. If the pillow is of linen, a design may be cut from cretonne and stitched upon the surface.

To make the square pillow it takes one yard of silk or other material. The pillow is eighteen inches square aside from the ruffle. This is two to three inches deep. Linen in natural shade is pretty for the cover. The large poppy with its foliage is cut out of cretonne of large design and buttoned on the linen. If silk is preferred for the cover and decorations, there are patterns having the figure as large as the cretonne.

The small pillow will require half a yard of stuff doubled to form the triangle. The ruffle takes the same quantity. That for the square one requires one fold more. As they require little labor or expense, these pillows have much to recommend them to the busy needlewoman.

A very effective and pretty cushion and chair cover is shown in the illustration. To make it, buy two yards and a half of eighteen inch silk or goods of that width. The silk should be of a soft neutral tone of greenish gray for the cushion and cover. The ruffle for the border is of the color of iris.

To make it, select one yard of that color. The design is also of iris. The flowers are cut from silk covered with that design and are stitched to the cover with silk floss and with the peculiar stitches shown in the cut. They are in outline so far as it is possible to make them so. It is not difficult for a clever needlewoman to copy this design, but so many pretty things are made by taking the large designs from cretonne, cutting them out and applying them to the silk in the same way that it is not imperative to use embroidery.

When the applique is on the cushion, the ruffle is added, the filling is inserted, and the cushion is finished. The chair cover is lined with silk to match one or another of the colors in the design. A narrow ruffle is added, and the cover is finished off. Pongee is one of the silks to be recommended for cushion and cover. There is a double pongee which is a yard wide and cuts to advantage.

LACE TRIMMED GIFTS.

A Lamp Shade and a Head Rest Decorated With Irish Point.

A handsome lamp shade seldom comes amiss as a Christmas gift for a woman. One may be made of Irish point lace and of delicate pink taffeta cut in a circle twenty-two inches in diameter. The center is cut a trifle larger than the chimney of the lamp and is firmly finished with a line of tape binding. The decoration is so largely a matter of personal taste and ability that no set pattern is given, as those familiar with this kind of work can suit their taste. The only thing to observe is that there should be four lines of lace applique up the sides of the shade, a border at the top and as much of the pretty openwork at the bottom as possible. Irish point is so generally liked and so widely made by amateurs that it is supposed any one might make this shade. Five-eighths of a yard of taffeta is required to make it.

The double head rest for a chair back which is illustrated is another bit of fancy work in which Irish point lace figures. The rest is made of pearl colored silk and filled with down. It is covered on the front with Irish point appliques. The silk is eighteen inches long and six inches wide and is cut double, though if silk is scarce a lining of muslin the same in color could be used. The two pieces are the same size and are fastened together by bows of ribbon tied in two sets of loops. Under the applications of lace may be laid pieces of silk or satin of a contrasting color. A good plan would be to have this useful present made of washable material.

EMBROIDERED LINEN SETS.

They Are Always Useful to the Fastidious Housewife.

If in doubt what to give the careful housewife for Christmas, select a washstand or a dressing table set made of embroidered linen. Here are designs for both. The large piece for the stand is eighteen inches in diameter, and the others are in proportion. The design is traced out in black silk, and the flower is in red wash embroidery silk. The detail of the flower is shown. The blossom may be in any color preferred, but the scalloped edges must match it. The pincushion is of dotted swiss and has the same design of flower as the washstand set, which is worked rather closer and may be somewhat larger. The ruffle is divided into four places and is bound with ribbon. The pieces are so arranged that they come to a scallop in the center of each side. One yard of crash or linen in single width is required to make this set; also half a yard of swiss.

Compulsory Arbitration Is of No Value

By JOHN MITCHELL

President United Mine Workers of America

ARBITRATION has been advocated by many eminent and worthy people for many years, but I am glad to note that the advocates of compulsory arbitration are growing less with each succeeding year and that there is a corresponding increase in the number who favor voluntary arbitration. ARBITRATION, TO BE PRACTICAL, TO BE BENEFICIAL, MUST BE ENTIRELY VOLUNTARY. COMPULSION AND ARBITRATION ARE IN THEMSELVES CONTRADICTORY TERMS. There can be no real arbitration that is compulsory, and were the people of our country forced to agree that arbitration should become compulsory, that penalties should be inflicted upon either the employed or the employing classes for a failure to accept the award of a board of arbitration, it would destroy every principle of free government, and I am free to confess that I know of no method by which compulsory arbitration could be adopted which would not mean the imprisonment of those who refused to accept the decisions of boards of arbitration, created by our State boards of arbitration, through whose efforts many strikes have been averted and many others have been settled, and I believe that in a majority of cases this result was attained by the board exercising their power as conciliators.

I AM OF THE OPINION, HOWEVER, THAT THE BEST AND MOST PRACTICAL PLAN THAT COULD BE ADOPTED TO AVERT STRIKES AND LOCKOUTS WOULD BE FOR THE EMPLOYERS OF LABOR AND THE REPRESENTATIVES OF LABOR ORGANIZATIONS TO MEET IN JOINT CONFERENCE, AS IS DONE BY THE SOFT COAL MINERS AND OPERATORS OF THIS COUNTRY, AND MUTUALLY AGREE UPON CONTRACTS GOVERNING THE SCALE OF WAGES AND CONDITIONS OF EMPLOYMENT, SAID CONTRACTS OR AGREEMENTS TO LAST FOR ONE OR MORE YEARS.

One of the peculiar features of the coal industry (and I believe that it would apply with equal force to any other industry) is that WHERE THERE IS NO ORGANIZATION OF EMPLOYEES MANY STRIKES OCCUR, AND WHERE THE EMPLOYEES ARE THOROUGHLY ORGANIZED STRIKES HAVE BEEN REDUCED TO A MINIMUM.

Colorado Mine Disaster.

Telluride, Colo., Nov. 22.—The number of victims of the terrible disaster in the Smuggler-Union mine is now known to be at least 29, with a considerable portion of the mine yet unexplored. Besides the 23 bodies already taken out and identified six were located in the north end of the ninth level, but the gas is still too strong to permit the rescuers to reach them, and their identity is as yet unknown. Several members of the searching parties were overcome in their efforts to bring out the bodies.

ACCIDENTS

On the Newark and Granville Electric Line But Nobody Hurt—Cars Off the Track.

Quite a serious accident occurred on the Newark and Granville Electric railway at the curve at Centerville and the old Granville road at a late hour on Thursday night. The car which was in charge of Motorman J. Van Kirk and Conductor John Carter, while running very slowly around the curve jumped the track, and it required several hours hard work to replace the car on the track. The accident was caused by a broken rail.

On Wednesday night as the late car was returning from Granville it ran off the track at the curve at the west end of Hull's grove, and plowed its way for a considerable distance through the ground, breaking two telephone poles and crashing through a fence. The car was in charge of Motorman Dell Priest and Conductor John J. Van Kirk. It required several hours' work to replace the car on the track.

PRESIDENT

Of Wabash College Had to Climb Out of a Window, While the Student's Yelled.

Crawfordsville, Ind., Nov. 22.—Contrary to established custom, the Wabash College authorities did not observe founders' day by dismissing recitations, and the students went on a strike. Singing and shouting, with wild hilarity, they invaded classrooms, broke up the recitations, and dragging out the few students who were at work, tied them to trees in the campus, leaving them in the cold for a long time.

Professor Kane, while hearing a lesson in philosophy, was locked in his room, and after an hour's imprisonment escaped by climbing from a window while the student body yelled and laughed. On his class room door was painted the inscription, "Jo Jo, the Caged Monkey." In the afternoon Senior Wilkinson, who had made himself odious by studying in the morning, was dragged to President Kane's home and tied to a pillar of the front porch. Later Dr. Kane cut his bonds while the students hooted derisively.

Any professional swindler will tell you that lots of men who are well-to-do are by no means easy to do.

HOW ICE IS FORMED.

Differences Between the Natural and the Artificial Products—Process of Manufacture—Wood Always "Hot"—To Cool Anything Ice Must Melt.

"But few people know anything about ice," said a gentleman connected with the ice making plant recently. "How it is made, how it is handled and the way to get the best results out of a given quantity are things that the average person knows but little about. There is, in the first place, a curious difference in the way natural and manufactured ice is formed.

"Natural ice is frozen from the top down. It is a matter of displacement. It begins with the first thin surface of the water and freezes down into the water, the depth or thickness depending on the prevailing temperature. Manufactured ice is frozen from the sides. Ammonia, of course, does the freezing, and the brine that is used acts as a sort of reservoir, holding the cold which is to crystallize the water in the cans.

"The streaks so frequently found in blocks of ice are due to the fact that the freezing is from the side. There is frequently found in lake or canal ice small spaces of various lines, and these are due to small quantities of air which are imprisoned during the freezing process. These spaces are not so common in manufactured ice, because the air is not allowed to take the same liberties with the water that is to be frozen.

"The processes of manufacturing ice are simple enough, but the construction of tanks, such as are used around many factories and cold storage plants is a rather complex business. They are built in layers so that air can neither get out nor come in. There are generally two or three spaces that are filled with dead air that will take up neither heat nor cold.

"There are several layers of paper, and one space is filled with non-conducting moss, which is really made of finely crushed granite. These spaces and layers form perfect insulation so far as heat and cold are concerned, and these elements cannot pass to and from the tanks. It costs a world of money to properly construct these tanks, and really persons not familiar with the facts have no sort of idea of the expensiveness of it.

"Few persons understand handling ice in a way to get the best results. Icemen are required to figure the thing on a scientific basis. They know just how much ice it will take to cool a given space. They can figure it down to a square inch. But we must remember, in the first place, that ice will not cool anything until it begins to melt. If it were possible to cram an ordinary room full of ice and keep it in a condition where it would not melt a particle, the walls of the room would not cool because of the presence of the ice, but the very moment the ice begins to melt the walls will begin to cool.

"The ice must give off some of its cold before having any sort of influence on the things around it, and it does this when it begins to melt. Now this is a natural law and a fact which the merest tyro would understand if he stopped long enough to think about it. There is another fact which is overlooked with the same persistence by the average person who uses ice. Of course persons who have large refrigerators have mastered these simple principles, yet they can be used with equal advantage in the ordinary ice box.

"Heat, as I have started to say travels one way and cold another. Heat goes up. It expands. It is fluffy, light and airy and is capable of oating away on the atmosphere. Cold strikes down the other way. So, in the case of ice, the cooling influences are downward. In cooling a room the ice should be placed at the top of the room to get the best results.

"If vents are run down at the sides of the room so the cold thrown off by the ice can fall from both sides, forming a sort of circle, it will soon drift around in circular form, and the room will cool much more rapidly. These are some of the things overlooked by the vast majority of persons who use ice, and consequently they do not get the best results. By following the simpler natural laws in such matters the average man would not only get more good out of the ice he buys, but the chances are that the ice bill would be much smaller.

"But speaking of the great care taken in insulating the tank, the iceman continued, "calls to my mind the fact that wood is a pretty hot article, and this is another thing which has impressed itself with peculiar force on the mind of the iceman. Since embarking in the ice business I have often wondered what the difference in temperature was in the different kind of wood.

"There is, of course, some difference, and it would be an interesting thing if some fellow could find out just about what it is. But this is not the point. All wood is hot from the view point of the iceman. The fellow who figures on cooling spaces that are inclosed by wood must figure on the units of heat in order to find out just how much ice will be required.

"He must figure on the units of heat required to be overcome under any circumstances, for that matter, but in the case where the space is surrounded by wood he must figure on wood as an additional element.

"Wood is always hot, and it generally requires a good bit of ice to drive out the heat which is stored in this material. This is why changes have been made in the matter of constructing refrigerators where meats and perishable goods are stored. The lining found in these refrigerators has saved a world of ice, because it has made it unnecessary to freeze the wooden frame in order to get the proper temperature in the box.

"It is probable that this general idea will in time be more useful as a saver of ice, the standpoint of the consumer. Wood is a great ice eater, and this is why icemen have been plotting against the material."

Broke It's Neck.

John Showman, son of Col. Wm. Showman, was the owner of a very fine and valuable young mare, of which he was very proud. On Thursday night the mare attempted to get out of an enclosure by jumping the fence. It succeeded in getting over the fence all right, but in doing so fell and broke its neck.

BUGGY UPSET.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hoover Being Thrown Out, but Neither Was Badly Injured.

Mr. C. M. Hoover, the well known insurance agent, came near meeting with a serious accident on Thursday afternoon. He had been at Granville accompanied by his wife, and was returning in his carriage when his horse frightened at an electric car several hundred yards north of Col. William Showman's residence, began plunging and shying. The buggy went over the embankment and both the occupants were thrown out, but fortunately escaped injury, aside from a few scratches and bruises.

MULL'S GRAPE TONIC

With the harsh effects of drastic drugs commonly used as tonics, cathartics, liver and stomach medicines.

Violent purgatives which are not a rational treatment for the sick.

Most doctors and patent medicine manufacturers resort to mercury, potash and opiates, which are all exceedingly injurious, though they sometimes temporarily relieve.

Mull's Grape Tonic is the life-giving juice of the grape, nature's own strength giver, combined with roots and herbs. Thus while pleasing to the taste, it is a perfect digestive, restorative and tonic. It nourishes, fortifies and refreshes, and is the greatest stomach, liver, nerve and kidney tonic known. It puts these great organs of the body in a healthy state. It rids you of that tired, depressed condition, caused by a run-down nervous system and impoverished blood. One bottle will convince you of its merits.

BROKEN UP

Will be the Miner's Camps in Kentucky—The Situation—Miners are Moving.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 22.—John Brasher and Representative Bradley of Hopkins county, representing the miners camped in that county, who are resisting the attempt of County Judge Hall to disperse them, were here in conference with Governor Beckham to ascertain whether the state troops stationed at the mines will be used to break up the camps. At the close of the interview the governor said the troops would remain under the orders of Judge Hall and would do as he directed. Judge Hall's injunction to the miners was to break camp by Saturday next or he would disperse them with the aid of troops.

Miners Moving. Earlinton, Ky., Nov. 22.—In the coal mine regions the stories are conflicting. All of the striking miners have been ordered by President James D. Wood of the United Mine Workers of this district to report to the Nortonville camp at once. When this order was issued runners were sent to the various quarters of the district where the men assemble. The strikers are mobilizing, coming in squads from all sections. The Madisonville men are traveling over the country to Nortonville. Most of them carry their arms. Men have been struggling in all day. In the case of resistance on the part of the miners, Adjutant General Murray has two companies of militia on hand. It is probable that Battery A of Louisville and other troops will be called. If the coal operators are called upon they can furnish 800 or 400 good tried men.

Removed by the Governor. Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 22.—Governor Stone removed Recorder A. M. Brown, chief executive of Pittsburg, and appointed in his place ex-Director of Public Safety J. O. Brown. In a lengthy statement addressed to "the people of Pittsburg" the governor says that Recorder A. M. Brown has removed a large number of efficient officeholders against the governor's protest "for political reasons," and to stop this he removed Brown from office. The governor denies that he has secured promises that he shall succeed Senator Quay or that he has received the pledges of certain persons to support him for senator.

Meeting of Catholic Archbishops. Washington, Nov. 22.—The annual meeting of the archbishops of the Catholic church in the United States began at the Catholic university. Cardinal Gibbons presided, and the attendance included Archbishops Williams of Boston, Corrigan of New York, Elder of Cincinnati, Ryan of Philadelphia, Ireland of St. Paul, Kain of St. Louis, Katzer of Milwaukee, Keane of Dubuque and Christie of Oregon. The meeting considered a number of matters of interest to the welfare of the Catholic church and reviewed generally the affairs of the hierarchy.

Morocco Strike. Lynn, Mass., Nov. 22.—The morocco strike, which has been in progress for several days in several factories, and which affects over 1,000 men, appears to be within measurable distance of settlement. Only four morocco factories are so far directly affected, but a settlement of the troubles, now under consideration, will have a direct bearing on all the morocco shops in the city. So far the strike only extends to the staking, beaming and glazing departments of the four factories, but it has crippled temporarily most of the other departments.

In ten Irish counties there are advertised 667,000 acres of shooting, and the rental asked is £7,835 or a trifle over 2½d per acre. In most cases, too, there are mansions attached.

Lieutenant Colonel John E. Clem, "the drummer boy of Shiloh," formerly of Newark, has been relieved from duty as commandant of Fort Sam Houston, Tex., and now awaits the orders of the war department. ## THE POLICE SLATE.

Emanuel Hall and Lewis Carter were arrested by B. & O. Officer L. N. Wise for stealing coal.

Richard Harrington was arrested by Officer Jacobs for drunkenness and loitering.

Georgia Jakeway was arrested by Officer Zerglebel on a warrant charging her with using insulting language to Mrs. Isabelle Wycuff. The affair seemed to be a neighborhood quarrel between Georgia and Mrs. Wycuff's little daughter. The Jakeway girl is probably 13 years old, and she said that both Mrs. Wycuff and her daughter had repeatedly "called her names" and she retaliated in kind. The Mayor with his usual good judgment, succeeded in adjusting their differences.

PLOT FELL THROUGH

For the Overthrow of Canadian Rule in the Klondike.

THE ORIGINAL STORY CONFIRMED.

Order of the Midnight Sun Organized For the Sole Purpose of an Uprising. Nineteen Different Causes Cited For a Rebellion—Numerical Strength of the Society.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 22.—The Times publishes a story which is offered as confirmation of a story published in the San Francisco Call to the effect that a conspiracy has been planned, covering the entire Northwest Territory, for the overthrow of Canadian rule and the establishment of an independent republic. The Times, in its article, lays great stress upon the story obtained from Fred Clark, formerly a stage manager in this city, but who has been in the Yukon for some time, in which he admits a knowledge of the Order of the Midnight Sun, which is supposed to have been organized for the sole purpose of the rebellion.

It is claimed that the order was originally instituted in strict secrecy in Dawson in December, 1900, and from there spread along the length of the upper Yukon, on one hand, and as far as Circle City, on the other, and to Skagway and Atlin in the other direction.

In the early days of the organization a circular was issued and secretly distributed to disaffected miners on the upper Yukon, in which 19 different causes were given for an uprising. Those dealt with defective mining laws, corruption of officials, royalty, liquor traffic and gambling, delays in the court, British Columbian alien act duties, miners' and loggers' licenses, recording fees and boundary disputes. The plotters anticipated no trouble in getting together men enough to overpower the mounted police at different towns of the interior. The conspiracy is now said to be dead owing to the publication of its secrets.

Trial of Mrs. Bonine.
Washington, Nov. 22.—The trial of Mrs. Lola Ida Bonine on the charge of killing James Seymour Ayres, Jr., has been fairly launched. The preliminary presentation of the case on behalf of the government was made by Assistant District Attorney Hugh T. Taggart, and after he had concluded a number of witnesses were heard. The theory of prosecution was stated to be that Ayres was murdered by Mrs. Bonine, and that she gained admission to his room in the Kenmore hotel, through the window, reaching it by means of the fire escape. He attempted to show that she was piqued by his non-attention to her. Mrs. Bonine apparently was unmoved by his representations. Once or twice during the address she leaned over and spoke to her attorneys. The witnesses did not throw any new light upon the killing.

Fatal Street Fight.
Joplin, Mo., Nov. 22.—J. E. Grayston, a prominent attorney, was shot and instantly killed by George E. Bayne, superintendent of the waterworks. Grayston and wife have been separated a year or more and Grayston, it is said, believed Bayne, who is a widower, was intending to marry Mrs. Grayston as soon as she was divorced. Eye witnesses say that Bayne was standing on the corner of Fourth and Main streets when Grayston came up to him and said: "You'll have to get right out of town. You can't live in the same town with me." Grayston followed this declaration with a blow of his fist, striking Bayne in the face. Bayne had been reaching in his overcoat pocket and when struck drew a revolver and fired.

Molnoux Brief.
New York, Nov. 22.—The brief on behalf of Roland B. Molnoux upon the motion to quash the indictment against him and for inspection of the minutes of the grand jury, was served upon Judge Newburger. A decision is expected the first week in December. Molnoux's counsel raise the new point that the introduction of the Barnett evidence before the grand jury was illegal in that it charged Molnoux with committing forgery as well as murder.

Collided With Terrific Force.
Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 22.—Four trainmen were killed and seven injured in a head-end collision between two Louisville and Nashville freight trains at Hughes siding, seven miles from this city. The dead: T. A. Cogbill, engineer; J. C. Rittenberry, conductor; William Bell, colored, brakeman; Anderson Irving, colored, fireman. The two trains came together with a terrific shock. Travel was delayed five hours.

Miners Go Out.
Knoxville, Nov. 22.—A special from Coal Creek says 100 miners employed by the Knoxville iron company in the Cross mountain coal mines went on strike. It is said the men claim that some of their number were discharged because they joined a mine workers' union recently organized. The officials of the company in Knoxville will not confirm the reported strike.

Yards Blocked.
New Haven, Conn., Nov. 22.—Because of the switchmen's strike on the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad there is hardly a foot of available track in the freight yards here, and thousands of cars are stalled, waiting for crews to move them.

Jimmy Barrett Signs.
Geneva, N. Y., Nov. 22.—Manager Frank Dwyer of the Detroit American league team, has signed Barrett of Cincinnati, who will play center field.

SCIENTISTS

Are to Meet Under Auspices of Field Museum at Chicago—George Dorsey at Head.

(Chicago Record-Herald.)

Beginning Dec. 31, there will be a gathering in Chicago of distinguished scientists from all parts of the United States. It will be the first of the kind ever held in the city and will be under the auspices of the Field Columbian Museum and the University of Chicago. The northwestern University is also interested in making the gathering a success.

The gathering of the scientists in Chicago is due largely to the efforts of Dr. George A. Dorsey, curator of the Field Columbian Museum, and on the success of the undertaking lies a plan to have the various associations and societies make Chicago their regular place for the midwinter gatherings. Primarily the success of the project depends upon the attitude taken by the railroads and upon their disposition to make the rates low enough to insure a representative gathering.

Some of the societies that will be represented at the coming convention are:

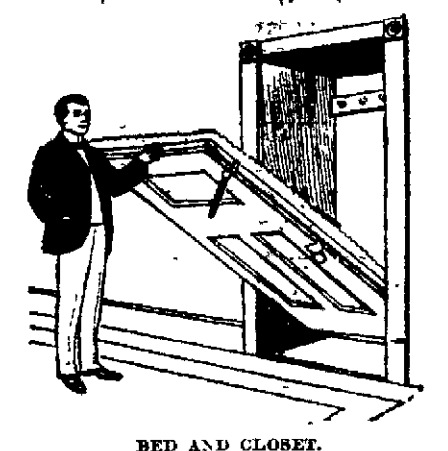

- American Naturalist Society.
- American Society of Morphology.
- American Physiological Society.
- Association of American Anatomists.
- American Psychological Association.
- Society of American Bacteriologists.
- American Folklore Society.
- Anthropological section of the American Association of Anatomists.

With a view of getting a record attendance Dr. Dorsey has presented a petition to the Central Passenger Western Passenger, Transcontinental Passenger and Trunk Line associations for a rate of one fare for the round trip. It is hoped that the railroads will see their way clear to make the small sacrifice which Dr. Dorsey has requested.

Dr. George A. Dorsey is a Licking county man, being the son of Squire and Mrs. E. J. Dorsey of Granville. He was graduated from Denison University in 1888.

The Latest Folding Bed.

Folding beds are a necessity in many apartments, on account of the lack of space to move about during the day and also to partially conceal the fact that there is a bed in the room. But Horatio B. Ruggles of Boston has improved on this idea to the extent of shutting the bed up in the closet when not in use. Our illustration shows the bed being opened out for use and gives a view of the interior of the closet, with hooks in position to hold the cloth.

BED AND CLOSET.

The door to all intents and purposes does not differ from any other door, except that it is hung on two pivots instead of hinges, and even the legs which support the bed on the floor fold inside when the door is in a vertical position. Any desired form of mattress and springs may be used, and a clamp is provided for holding the clothes in place when the bed is folded.

Washing Blankets and Chin.
Flannel blankets may be successfully cleaned by using borax and soft soap. Put two tablespoons of borax and a pint of soft soap into cold water enough to cover the blankets. When the borax and soap have become dissolved, put in the blankets and let them stand over night. The next day rub them out, rinse them in two waters and hang them to dry. Never wring them.

To wash chin begin by boiling two pounds of rice in two gallons of water till soft. Pour this into the tub and when just moderately warm put the chin in and wash it without soap. Boil the same quantity of rice and water again, strain off the rice and mix it with warm water, preserving the water in which it was boiled for rinsing water. Wash the chin in the warm water and rice, then rinse in the boiling water in which the rice was boiled.

Pineapple Compote.
Pare and shred one pineapple, using a silver knife instead of steel; add to a sirup made from two cups of sugar and one and one-half cups of water. Cook slowly until clear; then add the juice of half a lemon and a wineglass of sherry; set aside to get cold. Serve on rounds of stale sponge cake with whipped cream. You can buy little penny sponge cakes. Follow these out and use for cups for the fruit. The crumbs can be dried, rubbed through a sieve and added to the whipped cream or put away for another combine in another dessert.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

CONVENTION TOUR IS OPENED AT HEBRON.

Meeting at Vanatta, Saturday, Nov. 23, and at Highwater Following day—Secretary's Report.

(By Wilson A. Holmes, Sec.)

On last Saturday afternoon at Hebron we opened our Sunday School convention tour, which was planned to include five townships. Rev. H. A. Dowling, assistant secretary of the Ohio Sunday School Association, W. A. Holmes, County Sunday School secretary, C. W. Shinn, assistant County Sunday School secretary, and Mr. Reamer, who has been until lately connected with the Sunday school work in Coshocton county, made up the party that visited and helped in these meetings. The Hebron meeting was good and Union township will try to do better work even than last year. The next meeting was held at Johnstown where all other services were given up for the meeting. A large number of workers were present and showed greatest interest. Hartford was visited Sunday afternoon and a good meeting was held. Hartford is one of our good townships also.

Then we visited Burlington and our workers spoke to a good audience of Sunday school people. Burlington has good workers but not many schools, yet the coming year promises to be one of the best. On Monday Rev. Dowling and the county secretary visited Washington township and attended the regular township convention in the evening at Utica. Washington has been a banner township and she gives every evidence that her good standing will be maintained. At each of the places visited the township officers and friends had made the best arrangements for caring for our party comfortably, and we wish to extend them our sincere thanks for their kindness which made our work so pleasant.

We were glad to hear that the workers were already at work on some lines of progressive work or were just planning a normal movement. In one place the normal work needs renewed effort and good work can be done.

In two places there are openings for normal classes. In another the workers expect to discuss the work of a house to house canvass. In still another the home department work requires attention.

Many encouraging features were noticed, and everywhere we found the Christian people ready for a larger work. Brother Dowling's heart was gladdened by the addition of twenty-two sustaining members for the Ohio Sunday School Association. These memberships are credited on our county apportionment and to the township from whose workers they come. The list is as follows:

Mrs. P. T. Norris, W. W. Simmons, J. M. Wright, Rev. W. I. Todd, H. B. Rusler, H. E. French, Emmet Philbrook, Mrs. French, Jennie Ashbrook, A. A. Rich, W. M. Shipley, I. R. Grear, Thos. Torrens, Dr. S. L. Allen, D. G. W. Garrison, D. W. Wallace, Miss Mary Rogers, W. E. Helphely, C. W. Jewell, Mrs. Robt. Alsford, Mrs. J. H. Kirkpatrick, Miss Martha A. Turner and her Sunday School class.

These memberships will be of great help in the way of bringing up our county apportionment and the members will know that they are helping on our county, state and international work. We are proud of our workers and hope that we may bring our county into the front rank in Sunday school work.

The offerings by the township associations were as follows. Union, $2.93; Monroe, $.89; Hartford, $1.79; Burlington, $.92; Washington, 3.87.

Newton township Sunday School Association holds a convention at Vanatta on Saturday afternoon and evening, November 23. County workers will be present. McKean township Association will hold a convention at Highwater on Sunday afternoon and evening, November 24 at which county workers will be present. Monroe township Association will hold a convention Sunday, December 1. Mr. Shinn will be present.

"Oh, that probably accounts for it," rejoined Miss Cutting.

"Accounts for what?" queried the youth.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Daily Press of Jackson, Mich., October 12th, 1901, said of Humpty Dumpty: A large and fashionable audience was at the Athenaeum last evening to witness the ever-pleasing production of Cornell's Twenty Century Humpty Dumpty company. When this wholesome fairy tale is in the hands of an excellent cast, as was the case last night, it gives satisfaction, and puts theatregoers on good terms with the Athenaeum management. Eddie McDonald, a decidedly clever pantomime clown, who is really funny, has the title role always well in hand, and is successfully supported by a strong cast. As the "Queen of Light," Mile. Renie De Lon made a delightful stage appearance and instantly captivated the audience. Her gowns and costumes were the finest ever seen upon the Athenaeum stage; to say nothing of the twenty thousand dollars worth of diamonds that twinkle about her neck and shoulders. She seemed a genuine "Fairy Queen" indeed. Miss Cora Merrill as the "Queen of Darkness" is well intended for the part, and speaks her lines with excellent expression. Her dress and costumes were also works of art, and in perfect keeping with the character. While Miss Blanche Frayne as "Goody Two Shoes," afterwards "Columbine," fills the highest conception of that nimble Fairy being most admirably. Mr. A. C. Cornell as the ever present "Harlequin," and Mr. Pans LePetre, the ever watchful "Pa Pa," of "Goody Two Shoes," seemed especially fitted for the characters. The specialties were excellent and all up-to-date, the "Saville Sisters" being the best we ever saw. The band and orchestra was a delightful acquisition to the entertainment and deserves special mention. As a whole it deserves all that can be said for it, as every feature met a most favorable endorsement in Jackson. They can be sure of a big house here again at any time.

At the Auditorium Nov. 27 and 28, with Thursday (Thanksgiving day) matinee.

FEAR THE GERMANS.

English Papers Now Taking Trouble to Explain.

CLAIM JO DIDN'T MEAN TO OFFEND.

Anti-Chamberlain Agitation Developing a Most Serious Situation—Attitude of the French Miners—Greece in a Turmoil—Intelligence From Over the Sea.

London, Nov. 22.—The fact that the anti-Chamberlain agitation in Germany has at last extracted a semi-official expression of approval from the North German Gazette has had the effect of convincing the British press that the situation is becoming serious. Heretofore there had been a disposition to disregard and belittle the influence of the agitation. Now the papers are taking trouble to explain that Mr. Chamberlain's words were not intended to insult or offend Germany. "The temper of the German public is dangerous," says The Morning Post, "and it behooves our people to be on their guard. The Germans appear to regard Great Britain as covetous, rapacious and barbarous. From that belief to the corollary that a barbarous nation ought to be suppressed is a short and easy step."

The Daily News remarks: "Mr. Chamberlain, as the French say, 'costs dear.' The new imperialism which was to strengthen our position in the world has left us without a friend. America can not supply what we have lost in Europe, for the German, Dutch and Irish elements in that great community are today more hostile than they were during the Venezuela trouble." The Daily Chronicle, which admits that the agitation is "the outcome of misrepresentation of Mr. Chamberlain's ill-judged and ill-timed remarks," says: "This does not diminish the gravity of the situation. It is a serious thought that Lord Salisbury's self-congratulation at the Guild hall at the correct attitude of the great powers is beginning to be falsified."

CLASH AT ATHENS

As a Result of Religious Agitation. Thousands Protest.

Athens, Nov. 22.—The proposal to translate the Gospels into modern Greek caused bloodshed in the streets of this city.

Twenty thousand persons assembled around the grounds of the temple of Jupiter Olympus and took part in a demonstration organized by the students. A resolution was passed calling on the holy synod to excommunicate any person who translated the gospels into Greek as now spoken. Eight hundred marines were landed and co-operated with the troops in patrolling the locality. Several collisions occurred.

During the demonstrations following the assemblage several shots were fired at M. Theotokis, the Greek premier, but without effect. Seven persons were killed, 30 were severely and many others slightly wounded. Great excitement prevails. Strong military detachments guard the palace and the residence of the premier. Everywhere anxious groups are discussing the situation. Heartrending scenes occurred when the bodies of the dead were handed over to their relatives. It is rumored that armed men have arrived at the university, but the building is still guarded by the students, who are adopting military discipline. Among those slightly injured are the prefect of police of Athens and the prefect of Attica. A political motive, connected with the Slav propaganda in Greece, underlies this religious movement.

French Miners Talk Strike.

Paris, Nov. 22.—The situation in the mining centers of France is again approaching a climax. The next day or two will see a definite decision upon the question of a general strike. The result of the recent referendum, which, while it gave a majority in favor of the actual number who voted, actually indicated that a very considerable number of the miners were either opposed to a strike or not enthusiastic. Impelled the federation officials to put off a strike declaration on the plea that it was advisable to await the decisions of the commission of the chamber of deputies engaged in studying the demands of the miners. It now appears unlikely that the commission will satisfy these demands, and the extreme partisans are endeavoring to force the hand of the federation officials in favor of a strike.

Ruse of Dickinson.

Sofia, Nov. 22.—Mr. Dickinson, the diplomatic agent here of the United States, will leave this week for Constantinople. There is obviously no prospect of a settlement with Miss Stone's abductors. The departure of Mr. Dickinson will probably have a good effect upon the brigands who have Miss Stone in their possession, as they may fear to lose everything by not accepting Dickinson's proposals.

It is probable that no oriental diplomat has ever made such a good impression in this country as has Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese minister, whose recall to the dragon court has been expected for some time. Minister Wu is highly popular not only in Washington, but in many other cities of the country where he has been entertained.

LURED BY SCENT.

Rats Caught in Numbers by an Ingenious Means.

Rats are very susceptible to the odor of certain drugs, and an ordinary trap set in their haunts is likely to be successful if dressed with these scents, the attraction of which rat catchers affirm, they cannot resist. An example is: Powdered assafetida, eight grains; oil of rhodium, two drops; oil of aniseed, one drop; oil of lavender, one-half drop. Shake together in a bottle and use a very small quantity to dress the bait.

To catch rats, cover a common barrel with stiff, stout paper, tying the edge round the barrel. Place a board so that the rats may have easy access to the top. Sprinkle cheese parings or other food for the rats on the paper for several days until they begin to think that they have a right to their daily rations from this source. Then place in the bottom of the barrel a piece of rock about six or seven inches high, filling with water until only enough of it projects above the water for one rat to lodge upon.

Now replace the paper, first cutting a cross in the middle, and the first rat that comes on the barrel top goes through into the water and climbs on the rock. The paper comes back to its original position, and the second rat follows the first. Then begins a fight for the possession of the dry place on the stone, the noise of which attracts the others, who share the same fate.—Baltimore American.

An Embarrassing Query.

In a city where children above the age of five years have to pay full fare on the trams while those who are younger go free the passengers in a car saw one day a rather large boy, looking seven years old at least, held in his mother's lap as though he were a baby. The big child seemed restless about something.

Presently he cried: "Mamma! Mamma!"

"The mother, as if with a premonition of something wrong, tried to hush him, but he still kept saying: 'Mamma! Mamma!'"

"Well, what is it?" she asked at last. "Mamma, when do I have to say I'm only five?"

Then the passengers—some of them—laughed and the mother turned very red.—London Answers.

Father O'Boylan is appointed to be chaplain on the occasion to the Most Rev. Archbishop Keane, who was the first president of the university. The ceremony was to have taken place at the university chapel but owing to the large number who signified their intention to be present, it was necessary to move the change to the Baltimore cathedral, one of the largest edifices in the country. The consecrating prelate will be his Eminence Cardinal Gibbons, who will be assisted by most of the Archbishops in the United States and Canada.

Bell Ringing in Seville.

The young Spaniards in Seville on certain public holidays mount into the clock towers of the cathedral. While the regular bell ringers are resting these amateurs hang on to the bells, throw them forward with all their force and follow them in their wonderful leaps. The uproar is amazing when the bells of a cathedral are being rung about in this original and famous manner. It one enters, for instance, the triphala, at Seville, when the twenty bells are swinging at the same time, the noise is enough to give one a headache. The spectacle, too, of the ringers hanging in space and grasping the bell with their arms is a very singular one. "The first time that I was witness of this operation," says a French tourist, "I was passing near the Church of El Salvador del Mundo. People were looking up in the air. This led me to look up like the others. At first I thought that some unfortunate man had entangled himself in the rope which is used for putting the bell in motion. I soon found out, however, that it was a matter of sport. Another ringer appeared in his turn, suspended in the air or holding the bell by the ears and following it in its movement. Thus as the great bell swung he hung with his head downward toward the square and then in a moment disappeared as the bell again entered the belfry."

REFUSED

To Serve After Being Elected Sheriff, and Another Now Claims the Office.

Greenburg, Ky., 22—George A. Edwards, who was defeated for Sheriff, has filed a contest against B. F. Loy, who was elected. There has been no Sheriff in this county for over 20 years, and neither party nominated a candidate for the office, but Mr. Edwards made the race on an independent ticket, with nobody against him on either of the other tickets; the voters wrote the name of Loy on their ballots and Edwards was thereby defeated. Loy did not know that his name was being used and would not qualify. Edwards claims that he was entitled to the certificate of election because Loy did not want the office and did not want the certificate of election which was issued to him.

HUSKY ARM

And a Strong Paddle Needed at This School. So Some Citizens Believe.

Urbana, O., Nov. 22—The junior and senior classes of the high school are on a sympathetic strike. Prof. Collet, of the high school, undertook to chastise a member of the senior class who belongs to the football team of the school, when several other members of the class came to the rescue of their fellow member, and for a few minutes there was a decided rough house. For this action four members of the senior class was suspended. The high school classes then met and passed resolutions demanding the immediate reinstatement of the suspended members. These were laid before Superintendent Keyser who declined to interfere until the board of education passed on the matter. Then 60 or more members of the school left the building. The streets have been resonant with class yells and many scenes of disorderly conduct. There is some division of sentiment, but the general impression is that the old-time paddle could work overtime to advantage to part of the rising generation.

The Carpenter and the Ape.

An ape was one day watching a carpenter at work in the forest. The carpenter was busy splitting a piece of wood. The timber was long and tough, and the man had to knock two wedges in the cleft to give his ax fair play. Presently the carpenter left his work and went home to dine. The ape then comes forward and takes up the ax in his hand. He first knocks out one wedge and thinks he is getting on capitally. He then lets his tail hang down in the cleft and begins work on the other wedge. At last this, too, is knocked out of the log, when, lo, our monkey finds himself caught hard and fast between the cleft of timber. The carpenter soon arrives on the scene and, with a few knocks on the ape's skull, puts an end to his meddling tricks forever.—Perrin's "French Fables."

The Tree.

The tree's early leaf buds were bursting their lives.
"Shall I take them away?" said the frost, sweeping down.
"No! let them alone."
"Till the blossoms have grown,"
Prayed the tree, while it trembled from rootlet to crown.
The tree bore its blossoms, and all the birds sang.
"Shall I take them away?" said the wind as it swept.
"No! let them alone."
"Till the berries have grown,"
Said the tree, while its leaves, quivering, hung.
The tree bore its fruit in the midsummer glow.
Said the girl, "No! I gather thy sweet berries now."
"Yes, all thou canst see."
"Take them, all are for thee,"
Said the tree, while it bent down its laden boughs low.

What a Bureau Really Is.

When parchment was used for writing and when bookbinding was in its infancy and a bound book was a costly luxury, it was the custom to place the book on a piece of cloth or a strip of wool in order to prevent the binding from possible damage on the rough wood of the table. Those who had to deal with money also had a strip of cloth on the table or counter so that the coins should not roll. This strip was called "bureau."

In course of time the custom changed, and the same word was applied to the writing table covered with green or other colored cloth and at length descended to the modern table with the center protected by leather. As an office contains one or more of these tables it is not difficult to understand that the name should, in one country, have been given to the room that contained the bureau.—London Standard.

Described.

A schoolmaster was endeavoring to make clear to his young pupils the meaning of the word "slowly." He walked across the room in the manner the word indicates.

"Now, children, tell me how I walked."

One little fellow who sat near the front of the room almost paralyzed him by blurting out, "Bowlegged!"
